

Tom and jerry movie show time

Continue

A quarter of a century after we first met, he still completes us.Yes, "Jerry Maguire," the romantic comedy about a sports agent, played by Tom Cruise, whose conscience leads him to focus on providing more attention to fewer clients, is 25 years old.Inspired by sports agent Leigh Steinberg, the film was a massive hit, earning four Academy Award nominations, including best picture, best actor for Cruise, best screenplay for writer-director Cameron Crowe and best supporting actor for Cuba Gooding Jr., who won the award for his portrayal of disgruntled wide receiver Rod Tidwell.Show him the compliments! "I know everyone says like, 'Oh, they're so nice.' He actually is the nicest guy," Jerry O'Connell said about working with Tom Cruise. "He gave us all little gifts. I mean, (he) just went above and beyond and (he was) very present, very dedicated to his to his craft, to his work. And it's tough to slack when you're on a set with Tom Cruise because if Tom Cruise isn't slacking then nobody's slacking. Leaders like that set the tone for everybody and he's so dedicated to his craft."Columbia TriStar / Getty Images"When you make a movie or a TV show, even when it does well, when it comes out, you think, 'That's it.' But here we are talking about 'Jerry Maguire' 25 years later," Jerry O'Connell, who played Cush, told TODAY. "It's crazy to me. It's crazy."And that's a big part of the mystique of "Jerry Maguire." We are not only talking about the movie. We are talking the movie itself. The film features some of the most memorable lines in cinema history, lines that are just as fresh today as they were when we first heard them.Cuba Gooding Jr.'s Rod Tidwell kept Cruise on his toes in "Jerry Maguire."Columbia TriStar / Getty Images"Show me the money." "Help me help you.""You had me at 'Hello.'""You complete me.""Did you know the human head weighs eight pounds?"There are more great quotes, too, uttered by so many actors in the cast. "Show me the money" was named by the American Film Institute as the 25th greatest movie quote of all time, while "You had me at 'Hello'" was No. 52."It just means so much to people," O'Connell says about "Jerry Maguire."TriStar Pictures / Everett Collection"For me, I think it's a real quotable movie," O'Connell said. "It's funny. I'm going to sound really old now, but movies today, they're not that quotable. You know what I'm saying? "I mean, like, how many quotes came out of 'Jerry Maguire'? 'You had me at hello.' I can't tell you how many people yell 'Show me the money' at me. People yell 'My word is stronger than oak.' 'I just want to play football' will be yelled at me all the time. And that's all Cameron Crowe, man. He wrote those words. Tell me a more quotable movie."O'Connell can't single out one line that is his favorite, either, while noting not many films can compete with "Jerry Maguire."The chemistry between Cruise and Renee Zellweger was on point.Alamy Stock Photo""Help me help you' I guess is one that I use a lot," he said. "I dare you to show me a more quotable film than 'Jerry Maguire.' And, by the way, (it's) not just one character making these quotes. I mean, maybe 'Caddyshack.' OK, 'Caddyshack, a lot of people quote that. But no, I don't have one favorite line. It's like asking, 'Do I have a favorite child?'"The stellar writing and impressive performances fueled the movie, which grossed more than $150 million at the box office and instantly placed itself in the pantheon of pop culture reference points. At its core, though, "Jerry Maguire" is about the constitution of a man, the perfect vehicle for Cruise to show off a vulnerability and just why he has remained such a big movie star for decades.Cuba Gooding, Jr. holds up his Oscar after winning the best supporting actor award for his role in "Jerry Maguire."Timothy A. Clary / AFP via Getty ImagesAs the downtrodden agent who has to pivot to his one client — the disgruntled Tidwell after he's spurned by O'Connell's Cush — Jerry is determined to ride Tidwell to greatness. Tidwell, however, is hardly cooperative and Jerry's efforts are complicated by his lone employee, Dorothy Boyd, a single mother who longs to be inspired and sees greatness in Jerry. The movie made a household name out of a young actor named Renee Zellweger, who played Dorothy. She would go on to collect two Oscars of her own, as well as earn two other nominations. The scene at the end of the movie where Jerry races home after Rod has his breakthrough game and pledges his love for Dorothy in her divorce support group is the stuff of cinematic legend and represented the pinnacle of this romantic comedy. Watching that scene again, it's hard not to get goosebumps.Who could forget Ray, the son of Renee Zellweger's Dorothy, played by the adorable Jonathan Lipnicki?Columbia TriStar / Getty Images"Jerry Maguire" works for so many reasons. The characters are truly memorable. Sure, we all remember Cruise, Gooding and Zellweger, but Jonathan Lipnicki's portrayal of Ray is one of the great child performances we've witnessed on screen. Bonnie Hunt was on her game as Zellweger's protective sister. Regina King — who herself would go on to win an Oscar — electrified the screen with her feisty performance as Tidwell's wife. Jay Mohr's slimy portrayal of Bob Sugar — a role O'Connell said he auditioned for — is memorable, while Kelly Preston shined as Jerry's ex-fiancée. Heck, even the minor roles, like the Kinko's copy guy, Chet the nanny and Dicky Fox stood out. Everything clicked.The movie provided the happy ending, too. The guy (Jerry) got the girl (Dorothy), while his business model took off. Times have changed, though, so would Jerry's approach to his clients work today? O'Connell thinks he would find a way to adapt."Well, we all know he was a great agent, but he may not have conformed, if a lot of these agencies were sort of merging together and becoming sort of these uber-corporations," he said.Jay Mohr was brilliant as dislikable agent Bob Sugar, a role for which O'Connell auditioned.Alamy Stock Photo"I don't really see Jerry Maguire as being a big corporate person. So, he's probably got a small boutique agency that not only handles sports figures, also handles online personalities. Jerry Maguire probably reps a lot of TikTok stars right now. And he knows how to handle them personally, and really make sure that they get all the attention that they need.""Jerry Maguire" also retained an element of authenticity that is key in a movie about sports. In this case, it featured actual NFL teams, with the center on Tidwell's Arizona Cardinals. That, coupled with the winning love story between Jerry and Dorothy, made it a must-see film.Avery (Kelly Preston) tries to comfort Jerry before they wind up splitting.Columbia TriStar / Getty Images"It's one of those magic films because it involves the NFL, which a lot of movies don't get to do because the NFL doesn't very readily give up the rights to their trademark," O'Connell said. "But it's also maybe one of the best romantic comedies ever of all-time. So everybody's happy going to see this film on date night. And I mean, I'm still amazed that 25 years later, we're still talking about it."In a time of reboots and sequels, there has been radio silence on revisiting this movie. O'Connell says there's been no talk of another film."No, I'm so sorry. It just hasn't. I just don't think it's come up," he said. "And if it did come up, I don't think I would be their first call. They'd probably want to call Tommy and Renee, you know?" Easy Tom and Jerry Batter 1 of 1 Easy Tom and Jerry Batter jennywren Media Platforms Design Team Thanks to his amazing talent and extremely long resume, Tom Hanks has racked up some of the most inspiring, romantic, and hilarious movie lines known to date. So to celebrate his 59th birthday on July 9, we're taking a look back at a few of his greatest and most famous quotes. No barking, no growling, you will not lift your leg to anything in this house. This is not your room." 3 A League of Their Own (1992) "Are you crying? Are you crying?! There's no crying! There's no crying in baseball!" "How about coffee, drinks, dinner, a movie ... or as long as we both shall live?" 5 Extremely Loud and Incredibly Close (2011) "Well, as with anything, if you want to believe you can find reasons to," "Houston, we have a problem." "I guess sometimes the past just catches up with you, whether you want it to or not." 8 Saving Mr. Banks (2013) "There's no greater joy than that seen through the eyes of a child, and there's a little bit of a child in all of us." 9 Saving Private Ryan (1998) "Moreover, I feel heartfelt sorrow for the mother of Private James Ryan and am willing to lay down the lives of me and my men — especially you, Reiben — to ease her suffering." "I don't ask for much. I don't ask to be rich, and I don't ask to be famous, and I don't ask to play center field for the New York Yankees. I just want to get married and have a wife, and a house, and I want to have a kid, and I want to go see him be a tooth in the school play!" "This town ain't big enough for the two of us." 13 Sleepless in Seattle (1993) "Well I'm not looking for a mail-order bride! I just want somebody I can have a decent conversation with over dinner. Without it falling down into weepy tears over some movie!" Play All On Wednesday, March 11, 2020, news broke that actor Tom Hanks tested positive for COVID-19, also known as coronavirus. This came the same day that that the World Heath Organization declared it the virus a pandemic. Tom Hanks attends the 26th Annual Screen Actors Guild Awards | Axelle/Bauer-Griffin/FilmMagic Hanks, who recently received the Cecil B. DeMille lifetime achievement award at the Golden Globes, contracted the virus outside of the U.S., in Australia, where he's filming a movie. What is the project that he's working on? Hanks shared the following message from Australia In a message shared on his social media accounts, Hank wrote that both he and his wife, actress Rita Wilson, had tested positive for coronavirus. He explained their symptoms, explaining both "felt a bit tired" and had "slight fevers" before they were tested. Hanks then shared that he would be following the protocols of the medical officials in Australia, where they are right now. He explained that they "will be tested, observed, and isolated for as long as public health and safety requires." The actor finished by writing he'll "keep the world posted and updated," and encouraged everyone to "take care of yourselves." Fans and other celebrities reacted on social media It's like it picked the celebrity we cared the most about to make a point— Whitney Cummings (@WhitneyCummings) March 12, 2020 Let's face it, Hanks is a big deal. He's starred in countless films that are very important to people, and played many incredible characters over his decades-long career: So when people found out he had the virus, they were understandably upset. "It's like it picked the celebrity we care the most about to make a point," wrote comedian Whitney Cummings on Twitter. Others made jokes about his various roles, saying that he's survived being stuck on an island (Cast Away), landing a plane in water (Sully), and much more. What movie was he filming there? What were Hanks and Wilson doing in Australia? The couple has been there for at least a few days, as pre-production began on an as-yet-untitled film about Elvis Presley. The Warner Bros. project, helmed by Baz Luhrmann, stars Austin Butler as the musician and Hanks as his long-time manager, Tom Parker. It's due out in October 2021. The studio released a statement, as reported by Deadline, stating that it is "working closely with the appropriate Australian health agencies" and is "taking precautions to protect everyone who works on our productions around the world." Hanks and Wilson's son, Chet, weighs in Hanks has four children: Colin and Elizabeth, from his previous marriage, and Chet and Truman, from his marriage to Wilson. Chet is a musician and actor who has gotten a lot of attention for, among other things, his way of speaking. See what we mean in his statement about his parents' condition. "What's up everyone? Yea, it's true. My parents got coronavirus. Crazy. They're both down in Australia right now 'cause my dad was shooting a movie down there. But I just got off the phone with them — they both are fine. They're not even that sick. They're not worried about it, they're not trippin'. But they're going through the necessary health precautions, obviously. But I don't think it's anything to be too worried about. I appreciate everyone's concern and the well wishes. But I think it's all gonna be alright. But I appreciate it and everyone just stay safe out there. Much love."
